
Because It's Me...

They said they'll be supportive,
The words made me be cooperative,
Verily, I gave them my best.
But, lo! They put me to dust.
Because it's me.

I made a few plans.
And waited for them to have a glance.
Ah! They badly, badly shattered them.
With that I turned mum.
Because it's me.

“Egoistic and Selfish”, they termed.
And spread word across wherever they roamed.
I withdrew into a shell,
They rebuked and banished me to hell.
Because it's me.

They plot around me every second,
To make me a serf, I reckon.
But, never will I be a part,
With any of 'em – tho depart.
Because it's me.
